

From the World Federation of Trade Unions

Honoring the spirit of solidarity, social justice, and workers' rights that the October Revolution ignited

September 26, 2023

Secretariat of the World Federation of Trade Unions (WFTU)

Dear comrades,

The World Federation of Trade Unions (WFTU), on behalf of its 105 million members around the world, honours the 106th anniversary of the Great October Socialist Revolution. The Rally organised by SHISO-UNDO, and every event that takes place in this landscape, is not only a commemoration of a pivotal moment in history, but also an honouring of the enduring spirit of solidarity, social justice, and workers' rights that the October Revolution ignited. It is an honouring of the achievements of the October Revolution!

One hundred and six years ago, the world witnessed a seismic shift that forever altered the course of human progress. The October Revolution, led by the courageous and visionary leaders of the working class, brought forth a new dawn for the oppressed and downtrodden. It was a resounding call for equality, an end to exploitation, and the empowerment of the workers.

The principles of the October Revolution, remain relevant to today's situation all around the world. In this crucial period while the capitalist crises follow one another, those who produce everything are striving every day for survival. Over the years, as well as nowadays, the attack on wages and other labor and social rights of workers comes with a great intensification of repression.

The WFTU continues the daily struggle for the emancipation of the working class, we seek a world where humans will be free and where workers will not be forced to wage slavery, barely surviving daily difficulties, while the capitalists sow all the fruits that workers planted. We fight for a world free of imperialist wars and antagonism resulting in chaos, destruction, and death all over the world.

We struggle for a world where workers meet their contemporary needs, and where they will have full rights in labor, social justice, education, and health care. We fight for a better world for all human beings regardless of their nationality, color, race, or religion.

The World Federation of Trade Unions salutes your Rally for the 106th anniversary of the Great October Socialist Revolution. We assure you that the workers struggling for just demands and interests can always rely on the support and solidarity of the international class-oriented trade union movement.

Long live the Great October Socialist Revolution!

Long live the struggle for a society free from exploitation!

(Headline by the editorial office)