

Message to the March 4 Tokyo Rally Celebrating the International Women's Day 2023

From the Communist Party of Greece

We put particular emphasis on the participation of women in the struggle

International Relations Section, Central Committee of Communist Party of Greece

Dear comrades,

We salute the rally in honor of the International Women's Day, taking place on Saturday March 4, in Tokyo.

The KKE has steadily placed the demands for women's right to stable work, for social protection of maternity and support for the family, for the equal participation of women in social life and action at the centre of the claims of the labour movement.

We reveal the class character of the governments' policies that pretend to respond to the problems of working women by extending flexible labour relations and further commercializing social services. We point out that the inequality of women is a product of capitalism and not a result of the so-called "patriarchy".

We put particular emphasis on the participation of women in the struggle against the involvement of our country in imperialist interventions and wars such as the one being waged in the territory of Ukraine; against NATO, against foreign bases, against the possibility of installing US nuclear weapons in Greece; for their participation in the movement of solidarity with the suffering peoples, with refugees and migrants.

Dear comrades,

The developments in your region, the sharpening of antagonisms in the context of the US-China competition for their primacy in the capitalist system, the rise of militarism, the deterioration of the living conditions of workers and especially women in all countries confirm the historically obsolete character of capitalism.

They confirm the need for the working class to take power, to open the way for the socialization of the means of production and scientific central planning, for the new socialist society that will put an end to the capitalist barbarity of exploitation, poverty, crises and wars.
